Who the f_ck is Blockboy?

In his recording studio and atelier in an old building flat in Munich, Blockboy regularly descends into spheres of visual art and sound. With attention to detail, the communication designer plays and records all instruments himself, strictly according to the motto: keep it real!

After releasing first tracks on the Sampler „Yummy! Yummy!“, followed by the release of his debut EP „Heartbox“, Blockboy now comes with his new record „Monument Of The Broken Souls“, which is highly complex and entertaining.

Again, it would be very hard to label his sound, but still the mix of HipHop-Beats, catchy melodies, all sorts of sampling and Blues influences is astonishingly homogenous.

The inspiration to many of these sound jewels are faded voices of the past – old Blues records out of Blockboy’s vinyl treasury. Accordingly, this record - vinyl of course, limited to 300 copies - is dedicated to them: to the „broken souls“!
